We look forward to providing you with solutions that help take the complexity out of managing your global cash and payments.

Note

If a capital payment of any description (loan services, capital injection, investment, etc.) or any type of payment that may result in a future repatriation is required, please contact your JP Morgan Chase & Co representative before execution of the transaction. Local regulations may require completion of additional documentation and not all payment types can necessarily be supported.

Setting up your payment

It is best practice to include the below standard information in payment instructions to avoid potential delays or returns:

Ordering Customer

- Account number
- Full name (no initials)
- Full address
 - Street address (avoid P.O. Box numbers)
 - City
 - State Code
 - Postal Code
 - Country code (2 characters)

Beneficiary Customer

- Account number
 - Include the International Bank Account Number (IBAN) or Clave Bancaria Estandarizada (CLABE), if applicable
- Full name (no initials)
- Full address
 - Street address (avoid P.O. Box numbers)
 - City
 - State Code
 - Postal Code
 - Country code (2 characters)

Beneficiary Bank

- Full bank name
- Address
- SWIFT BIC

Some countries may also require additional information (i.e., telephone number, purpose of payment, routing codes, etc.). Failing to provide all required information may result in payment delays or returns.

Cross-Border Payment Requirement

Intermediary banks are often used when a payment is made in a currency that is different from the local currency. When making a payment through an intermediary bank, their SWIFT BIC must be included.

Key Terms

International Bank Account Number (IBAN)

The International Bank Account Number, IBAN, is an internationally agreed standard to identify an individual's account at a financial institution. IBANs should be included for all SEPA payments. SWIFT maintains an IBAN registry (https://www.swift.com/sites/default/files/resources/swift_standards_ibanregistry.pdf) that provides details on the IBAN structure. The structure consists of a two-letter ISO country code, followed by two check digits and up to 30 alphanumeric characters for the Basic Bank Account Number (BBAN).

Routing Codes

Some countries require the inclusion of national routing codes to facilitate routing within the country's payment systems. Examples of countries with routing codes are Australia and Canada.

SWIFT BIC

SWIFT BIC is a bank identifier code for members of the SWIFT network. Please note: If a branch BIC is not known, the full name and address should be used.

Canada

CAD – Canadian Dollar

Overview

- Information provided by the Beneficiary: Remitter should obtain all required bank information from the Beneficiary (e.g. Canadian bank branch routing number, SWIFT BIC code and beneficiary bank address). Absence of this information may result in delays or returns.
- Central Bank: For additional information, please refer to www.bankofcanada.ca.

Country Requirements/Restrictions

- Currency and Clearing Information: Canada has well-developed high-value and low-value electronic payment systems.
- Account Restrictions: Residents and non-residents can hold both domestic and foreign currency accounts. Most Canadian banks offer accounts in USD.
- Canada's "Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act" and related regulations impose an obligation on all Canadian financial institutions, including J.P. Morgan, to obtain certain information for wire payments transmitted in a SWIFT 103/103+ format and a SWIFT MT101s that result in the SWIFT MT103 format. In order to comply with these regulatory requirements, J.P. Morgan will require complete order party/beneficiary information to be included in any wire payments that are sent or received through your accounts with us in Canada.
 - Complete order party/beneficiary information includes: full account name, full account number, full beneficiary bank name, the SWIFT BIC code, and full physical address information. A full physical address must include: street number, street name, city or town, state or province where applicable, and country, preferably in the 2-character ISO format.

In circumstances where a street number is not assigned to a physical location, a description of the location, such as a building and street name, may be acceptable. A P.O. Box is not acceptable without a full physical address. State or province is also required for all U.S. and Canada addresses and for other countries, where applicable. Some Canadian banks also require the Canadian Clearing Code to avoid delays in processing.

Canada

Continued

- The ideal size of the mandatory fields for ordering party/beneficiary full account name is 35 characters. For the mandatory ordering party/beneficiary address, full physical address components should fit into the rest of the 3 lines with 35 characters in each line. Where the beneficiary name exceeds one line, the full beneficiary name and full address should fit in 4 lines. The address information should not overflow into other fields to avoid delays or rejection.
- Financial institutions may reject or delay your wires if the required information is not provided or address information does not include a full physical address in the mandatory fields.

Payment Formatting Rules for CAD

- Ordering Customer (SWIFT MT103/MT101 F50): For MT103 wire payments debiting a non-FCB¹ client account, the JPMorgan wire engine will enhance the account name and address from account records. For all other MT103/MT101 formatted wire transactions in and out of Canada, including those paid through an intermediary bank, include account number, full name (no initials), and full physical address of the ordering customer. Use of initials can delay receipt of funds by the beneficiary.
- Beneficiary Customer (SWIFT MT103 or MT101 resulting in a SWIFT MT103 F59): For all transactions in and out of Canada, including those paid through an intermediary bank, include account number, full name (no initials), full physical address, and telephone number of the beneficiary customer. Use of initials may delay receipt of funds by the beneficiary.
 - When paying CAD to a beneficiary who holds an account with Royal Bank of Canada or the Bank of Nova Scotia, the account number should be 12 digits.
 - Telephone number of the beneficiary may also be provided in SWIFT MT103 F70

Canada

Continued

- Beneficiary Bank (SWIFT MT103 F57): Include the SWIFT BIC and the Canadian bank branch routing number², or, where BIC and Routing Code is not provided by the counterparty, the full name, and full physical address of the beneficiary bank as an alternative, although, the payment may fall into repair. It is recommended by JPMorgan that the bank's SWIFT BIC is provided, and, where applicable, the Canadian Clearing Code is provided for CAD payments. Where the SWIFT BIC is not provided, the wire payment may fall into repair.
 - It is recommended by Payments Canada that the Canadian Clearing Code or routing code be used for payments denominated in CAD. The 9-digit routing number is made up of the Direct Payment Routing Number (4 digits) and the Branch Transit Number (5 digits). The structure is //CC followed by nine digits. Example: //CC123412345.
 - Where applicable, the beneficiary bank address and/or transit number identifies which internal branch account the main bank should direct the funds to.
 - SWIFT BIC is 8 or 11 alphanumeric characters: xxxCAxx or xxxCAxxxx.

Wire receipts for credit to a Canadian corporate account need to be received by JPMorgan Toronto in the swift MT103 format due to Canadian regulatory reporting obligations. If they are received in the MT202 format for credit to a corporate-owned account, the wire receipt in the MT202 format will be rejected and will have to be resent by the counterparty in the SWIFT MT103 format.

¹FCB means Foreign Correspondent Bank

²Canadian Clearing Code is mandatory for Laurentian Bank, National Bank, Desjardins, CIBC & Meridian Bank, Manulife Bank, State Street Bank

China

CNY – Chinese Yuan/Renminbi

Overview

- Information provided by the Beneficiary: Remitter should obtain all required bank information from the Beneficiary (e.g. SWIFT BIC, account number, and beneficiary bank address).
- Central Bank: For additional information, please refer to www.pbc.gov.cn.

Country Requirements/Restrictions (On-Shore CNY)

- Payment Restrictions: This is a restricted currency. Restricted currency payments must include all required information, or they will be canceled.
 - Beneficiary must have been activated in RCPMIS, the central bank reporting system, by its local bank before it can conduct any CNY cross-border transaction for the first time.
 - For corporations, payments can be for merchandise, service trade, other current account items (i.e., operating expenses) and approved capital activities.
- Account Restrictions: Non-resident companies require approval from the People's Bank of China (PBOC) for the opening of CNY settlement account in China.
- Additional Documentation: Supporting documents are not required for outgoing payments if the payment bank allows document simplification. Local regulatory reporting applies to all cross-border payments.
 - If requested, the beneficiary must provide the local bank with supporting documentation to validate the underlying transaction and receive credit into the account.

Country Requirements/Restrictions (Off-Shore CNY)

- Currency & Clearing Information: The official ISO currency code for payments is CNY. It is used as the official code to denominate payments and accounts. CNH is the informal currency term used in the off-shore markets, and denotes the foreign exchange rate for the renminbi traded in the off-shore markets.
 - Hong Kong is by far the largest renminbi off-shore market due to its early participation in the renminbi international trade settlement scheme and the development of a domestic RMB clearing system (CHATS) where the Bank of China (Hong Kong) is the settlement institution.
- Payment Restrictions: Since the liberalization of the currency, the renminbi can be used globally as a trade settlement currency in off-shore jurisdictions (outside mainland China).

China

Continued

- Like the other off-shore markets in New York, Singapore, Tokyo, and London, no specific regulatory restrictions are imposed on payment initiation and FX in CNH. However, payments involving FX for CNY rate (the on-shore renminbi rate) are subject to restrictions.
- Only merchandise trades with China to be settled within three months are eligible to contract the CNY rate.
- Receipt of cross-border CNY remittance to personal accounts in China is not supported.
- Due to China National Advanced Payment System (CNAPS) requirements, cross-border CNY payments with invalid or missing purpose of payment codes may be delayed or rejected by the processing bank in China.
- Account Restrictions: Like the other off-shore markets in New York, Singapore, Tokyo, and London, there are no specific regulatory restrictions imposed on account opening.
- Additional Documentation: Supporting documentation may be requested from the beneficiary to substantiate an FX trade.

Foreign Currency Payment into Mainland China Foreign Currency Current & Capital Accounts

- Foreign currency accounts in China are purpose based. Current and capital accounts are the most common on-shore foreign currency accounts.
- Current accounts are for normal pay/receive activities. Capital accounts are reserved for capital injection.
- Capital account opening can be done based on one-off registration with local regulator. Balance limit is capped at the amount of the approved investment. FX from renminbi to another foreign currency must be supported by documentation detailing the nature/purpose of the exchange.
- Foreign currency receipts relating to merchandise or trade activity will be received into a Verification Account before being credited to the current account.
- Foreign currency receipts of any amount are subject to explanation on nature/purpose of payment.

Payment Formatting Rules for CNY

- Ordering Customer (SWIFT MT103 F50): Include account number, full name (no initials), and address of the ordering customer. Use of initials can delay receipt of funds by the beneficiary.

China

Continued

- Beneficiary Customer (SWIFT MT103 F59): Include account number, full name (no initials), address, and as best practice, telephone number of the beneficiary customer. Use of initials or beneficiary name mismatches may delay receipt of funds by the beneficiary.
 - The provided beneficiary name should be exactly the same as the information registered in China's central bank information system (RCPMIS).
- Beneficiary Bank (SWIFT MT103 F57): Include the CNAPS code of the beneficiary bank (preferred). Input of the CNAPS code should start with the code word "C/N". If not available, then include the SWIFT BIC and full name and address of the beneficiary bank. Failing to provide beneficiary bank name and address could result in payment mid-routing and delays.
 - CNAPS is a 12/14-digit numeric code that identifies each CNAPS member bank. CNAPS is the renminbi RTGS clearing system in China.
 - If SWIFT BIC is not available or the ordering customer is sending local currency within China, include the full name and address of the beneficiary bank.
 - SWIFT BIC is 8 or 11 alphanumeric characters: xxxxCNxx or xxxxCNxxxx.
- Sender to Receiver Information (SWIFT MT103 F72): A purpose of payment code is mandatory and must be included on its own line in F72 for cross-border China-bound CNY payments. The purpose of payment code should be formatted as /ACC/PURPOSE/XXX or /ACC/XXX. Where XXX is the 3 letter code (Can be included in field 70).

Code	Description
/CAP/	Capital Account
/GDS/	Goods Trade
/SRV/	Service Trade
/CAC/	Current Account
/FTF/	Bank to Bank Funds Transfer

- The purpose description (optional) can be added in line 2 or in SWIFT MT103 F70.
- J.P. Morgan will reject without prior notice any China bound cross-border payment instructions missing purpose of payment codes.

India

INR – Indian Rupee

Overview

- Information provided by the Beneficiary: Remitter should obtain all required bank information from the Beneficiary (e.g. IFSC code, account number, and beneficiary bank address).
- Central Bank: India's exchange control policy is set by the government in conjunction with the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), which administers regulations. For additional information, please refer to www.rbi.org.in.

Country Requirements/Restrictions

- Currency & Clearing Information: Real Time Gross Settlement (RTGS) is the domestic high value clearing system with a threshold of INR 200,000. National Electronic Funds Transfer (NEFT) is the domestic low value clearing system, with no specified amount threshold for cap values.
- For cross border INR payments into India with value INR 500,000,000 and above, both remitter & beneficiary Legal Entity Identifier (LEI) must be provided under Payment Details/Remittance information (F70). See Payment Formatting Rules For INR— Reason for Payment section for acceptable formats.
- Payment instructions without LEI information and appropriate formatting will be rejected.
- The LEI is a unique 20-character number used to identify parties involved in financial transactions.
 - For the latest listing of participating member banks, visit www.rbi.org.in. Both the sending and the receiving bank must be RTGS or NEFT enabled.
 - Payments are settled on a first-in, first-out basis, either in real time (for RTGS) or within two hours (for NEFT) subjecting to working hours and bank holidays.
- Payment Restrictions: Different payment types are subject to different regulations, yet the purchase of INR is permitted for trade and current account purposes.
 - Foreign currency can be paid from offshore for local conversion subject to regulations.
 - All transactions with non-residents are subject to foreign exchange controls, but the INR is fully convertible for trade and current account purposes.
 - Transfer of funds from foreign currency accounts to an INR account is permissible subject to certain regulatory prescriptions and allowances.
 - Transfer of funds from a local currency account to a foreign currency account is not permitted except in certain regulatory situations.
 - In general, there are no limits on the amount received, as long as the necessary supporting documents are provided.

- Sending payments to non-resident beneficiaries is permitted subject to foreign exchange management guidelines.

- Additional Documentation: Additional documentation may be required from the remitter and/or beneficiary.

Foreign Direct Investment:

- All cross border incoming remittances with purpose code as Foreign Direct Investment (P0006, P0007 & P0008) will require additional Declaration & details of the remitter/Investor which may cause delay in processing.

Payment Formatting Rules for INR

- Ordering Customer (SWIFT MT103 F50): Include account number, full name, and address of the ordering customer.
- Beneficiary Customer (SWIFT MT103 F59): Include account number, full name, address, and as best practice, telephone number of the beneficiary customer.

- Account number can't contain dashes, spaces, or any other non-standard characters.

- Beneficiary Bank (SWIFT MT103 F57): Include beneficiary bank branch's full name, address, including branch postal identification number (PIN), and branch telephone number (highly recommended).

- Do not include SWIFT BIC. India does not use the SWIFT BIC network for domestic messaging. All payments must include the Indian Financial Services Code (IFSC) for electronic delivery of the payment.

- There are two different 11-character IFSC codes. One code is for the National Electronic Funds Transfer (NEFT) system. Another code is for the Real Time Gross Settlement (RTGS) system. The beneficiary should obtain these codes when opening a local account.
- For payments into India, with any of the following 3 purpose codes: P1302, P1303 and P1304 or with 'Donation' in its description will be processed only if the beneficiary bank is as below. Payments with beneficiary bank details other than the one captured below will be returned.

Japan

JPY – Japanese Yen

Overview

- Information provided by the Beneficiary: Remitter should obtain all required bank information from the Beneficiary (e.g. SWIFT BIC, account number, and beneficiary bank address).
- Central Bank: For additional information, please refer to www.boj.or.jp/en.

Country Requirements/Restrictions

- Currency & Clearing Information: In Japan, there are two cash clearing systems for Japanese Yen payments. One is Zengin and the other is FXYS. Each clearing system has different rules and message format guidelines.
 - Zengin is a clearing system for domestic yen payments among Japanese residents.
 - FXYS is used for international, cross-border yen payments for both Japanese residents and non-residents.
 - Maximum payment amount between residents through local clearing system, Zengin, is JPY 9,999,999,999. Amounts exceeding this limit are split into multiple transactions.
 - “Payment on Behalf Of” or “Receipt on Behalf Of” service is not available for Zengin payments.
- Payment Restrictions: JPY is a freely traded currency both on-shore and offshore.
 - JPY payments must be entered in whole amounts with no decimal to avoid rejection.
 - Resident companies must report details of all non-trade related transfers in excess of JPY 30,000,000 or the FX equivalent.
 - For outgoing Zengin payments, the debit account with JPMorgan Chase Tokyo must be a resident account. For incoming Zengin payments, the credit account with JPMorgan Chase Tokyo must be a resident account.
 - For outward payments from Japan, payers and payees are required to confirm their cross-border payments are not related to sanctions in North Korea and/or Iran. Most Japanese banks request remitters to input “NNKN” in payment instructions for confirmation that the payment is not related to these sanctions. Without this confirmation, payments may be delayed or cancelled.
- Account Restrictions: JPY accounts and foreign currency accounts can be opened by resident and non-residents.

Japan

Continued

- Additional Documentation: For over-the-counter money transfers over JPY 100,000, Japanese ID confirmation law requires banks to confirm the customer’s name, address, and birthday with a government-issued ID. If the customer is an account holder, confirmation is not required as the same process is required to open an account. If problems are encountered, have the beneficiary’s name, account number, and telephone number available.

Basic Payment Formatting Rules for JPY

- Ordering Customer (SWIFT MT103 F50): Include account number, full name (no initials), and address of the ordering customer. Use of initials can delay receipt of funds by the beneficiary.
- Beneficiary Customer (SWIFT MT103 F59): Include account number, full name (no initials), address, and telephone number of the beneficiary customer. Use of initials may delay receipt of funds by the beneficiary.
 - For Zengin Payments: In addition to the account number, there are various account types within Japan, including: Saving (“S”), DDA (“D”), Chochiku (“C”), and Others (“O”). The account type is mandatory for all Zengin payments and must precede the beneficiary account number in the beneficiary customer field. Example: S1234567.
 - For Zengin Payments: The beneficiary’s exact account name in local language is required. If the account name does not perfectly match with the beneficiary’s account name recorded at the beneficiary bank, the payment may be delayed.
- Reason for Payment (SWIFT MT103 F70, F2, or F77B): For transactions relating to non-account debits and credits, purpose of payment is required for transactions over JPY 1,000,000 or equivalent. This information should be included in either the payment details (SWIFT Field 70), bank to bank (SWIFT Field 72), or regulatory reporting fields (SWIFT Field 77B). It is recommended to ask the beneficiary for confirmation of the exact field to insert payment purpose for their specific beneficiary bank. Without this information, the payment may be delayed.
 - It is recommended to ask the beneficiary for confirmation of the exact field to insert payment purpose for their specific beneficiary bank. Without this information, the payment may be delayed.

Japan

Continued

Payment Formatting Rules for FXYS (International/Cross-border Clearing System)

- Beneficiary Bank (SWIFT MT103 F57): Include SWIFT BIC with branch location, full name, and address of the beneficiary bank. This information is required to avoid payment delays.
 - SWIFT BIC is 8 or 11 alphanumeric characters: xxxJPxx or xxxJPxxxx.
- Bank to Bank Information (SWIFT MT103 F72):
 - For outbound payments from a Tokyo branch account, enter “FXYS” (International/Cross-Border Clearing System) on its own line in F72.

Payment Formatting Rules for Zengin (Domestic Clearing System)

- Beneficiary Bank (SWIFT MT103 F57): Japanese banks have a unique 4-digit local bank code decided by JBA. Each bank also has a 3-digit branch code. Combined, the 7-digit bank/branch code identifies the specific beneficiary bank.
 - Bank Branch Code should always be preceded with “/ZN” followed by the 4-digit bank code and the 3-digit branch code. Example: /ZN0402001

Additional Notes

- Lifting fees are standard market practice in Japan. Lifting fees are calculated as a percentage of the transaction value (around 1/20% of the payment amount).
- JPY is a zero-decimal currency.
- Payments to Post Bank (JPPSJP1XXX) are not permitted.

Nigeria

NGN – Nigerian Naira

Overview

- Information provided by the Beneficiary: Remitter should obtain all required bank information from the Beneficiary (e.g. SWIFT BIC, account number, and beneficiary bank address).
- Central Bank: For additional information, please refer to <https://www.cbn.gov.ng/>.

Country Requirements/Restrictions

- Payments related to investments from foreign investors require a Certificate of Capital Importation (CCI) and should be sent in USD only, as the beneficiary bank must perform the conversion onshore. Remitter must request the beneficiary to apply for the CCI from their local bank in Nigeria prior to initiating the USD payment. The beneficiary bank will issue the CCI once the funds are converted and credited to the beneficiary account. Failure to obtain a CCI may result in difficulties when repatriating interests, profits, dividends and original investment amount.
- Effective immediately, Payments to individuals from corporations/organizations are permitted again. However where underlying remitter is an individual such payments are still not permitted. Payments between corporations/organizations continue to be supported.

Payment Formatting Rules for NGN

RUB – Russian Ruble

Overview

- Information provided by the Beneficiary: Remitter should obtain all required bank information from the Beneficiary (e.g. SWIFT BIC, account number, and beneficiary bank address).
- Central Bank: For additional information, please refer to www.cbr.ru.

Regulatory Requirements/Restrictions

- Currency & Clearing Information: The Central Bank of Russia coordinates payments and settlements between 70+ regional centers. Payments are currently sent by batch multiple times daily.
 - All batch processed payments in the same region are typically settled by the Central Bank of Russia on a same day basis. Payments to different regions may take up to three business days.
 - all payments in Russian ruble ("RUB") exceeding RUB 100mm need to be routed via the real time gross settlement ("RTGS") clearing system called Banking Electronic Speed Payment System (BESP)
- Payment Restrictions: There are no restrictions on the types of payments allowed.
 - The beneficiary may need to open a passport at the local beneficiary bank for a payment for goods and services or loan exceeding USD 5,000.
- Account Restrictions: Residents and non-residents are permitted to open and maintain domestic and foreign currency accounts either locally or abroad. Residents must notify the tax authorities of any foreign-maintained accounts.
- Additional Documentation: Cross-border payments are settled via correspondent bank accounts and often require supporting documentation. The Russian correspondent bank must receive all documentation before it releases the payment to the beneficiary bank.

Payment Formatting Rules for RUB

- Payment instructions must include a wide array of country-specific information in addition to standard remittance information. Please be aware that your RUB payment may be cancelled if you fail to include this information in your payment instructions.
- Ordering Customer (SWIFT MT103 Field 50): Include account number, full name (no initials) and address of the ordering customer. Use of initials can delay receipt of funds by the beneficiary.

Russia

Continued

- Beneficiary Customer (SWIFT MT103 Field 59): Include the beneficiary's 20-digit account number, full name, address, and individual tax payer number (INN).

Line 1:	Account Number (20 digits)
Line 2-3:	Remitter Name
Line 4:	City, Country
Line 5:	INN Code

 - If there is only one beneficiary bank (Russian bank) and beneficiary, include the beneficiary customer's 20-digit account number in this field. If an intermediary is used, the 20-digit account number of the beneficiary bank should be included in SWIFT MT103 F57.
 - First name, family name, and patronymic name must be included. Use of initials can delay receipt of funds by the beneficiary. Companies must include full name as well as legal ownership (e.g. LLC, JSC).
 - INN is the taxpayer's identification code assigned by the Russian Tax authority. The length of this code varies based on the type of beneficiary. If the beneficiary is an individual, this field is optional and consists of 12 digits. If the beneficiary is a Russian legal entity, this field is mandatory and consists of 10 digits. If the beneficiary is a foreign legal entity, this field is mandatory and consists of 5 digits or 10 digits, depending on whether or not the foreign legal entity conducts business in Russia.
 - If the payment is a tax payment, then the reason code KPP should be included in SWIFT MT103 F59.
 - SWIFT MT103 F70 may be used for the telephone number.
- Beneficiary Bank (SWIFT MT103 Field 57): Include the BIK, 20-digit account number, and SWIFT BIC of the beneficiary bank.
 - BIK, formerly known as MFO, is a nine-digit number that the Central Bank of Russia gives to all Russian banks. The last three digits are the same as the correspondent account of the bank with the Central Bank of Russia. The format for the nine-digit BIK and twenty-digit account number should read: /RUXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX.
 - If there is an intermediary bank in SWIFT MT103 F56A, make sure F57A includes the 20 digit account number of the beneficiary bank as well as the SWIFT BIC.
 - SWIFT BIC is 8 or 11 alphanumeric characters: xxxRUxx or xxxRUxxxx.

Russia

- Intermediary Bank (SWIFT MT103 Field 56): If an intermediary is being used, include the bank's SWIFT BIC in SWIFT MT103 F56A.
 - If the intermediary does not have a SWIFT BIC or if the BIC is not available to you, include the intermediary bank's BIK, name and 20-digit account number.
- Reason for Payment (SWIFT MT103 Field 70): Purpose of payment must be clearly identified.
 - The field must always start with VO and the numeric code of the transaction. The VO code is the operation code relating to the purpose of the payment. This should be followed by the key details/description of the payment (e.g. contract references).
 - The VO Code should always be quoted as per the following format: (VOXXXX). There should be no spaces, dashes, dots, colons or other characters between the «VO» and digits. The VO Code may be placed in any line of field 72 of MT202's or field 70 of MT103's.
 - Include accurate and clear purpose of payment, date of invoice agreement, and NDS (VAT) amount, where applicable. If VAT is included, the amount is needed. If VAT is not to be paid, include "NO VAT."
 - Example: V060070 FX trade dated 10/20/09 contract ref: AF12123. The latest list of VO codes can be provided upon request.
- Details of Charges (SWIFT MT103 Field 71A): It is best practice to make RUB payments with charge indicator "OUR."

• For Tax Payments :

The below fields need to be included if the payment is related to Tax

- Status of Tax Payer (SWIFT MT103 Field 26T): Include 3 digit Tax payer status code; possible options from 'S01' to 'S15'
- SWIFT MT103 Field 77B: field should be formatted as below

Purpose code must be provided in the format of ‘/ACC/PURPOSE/’(5 digits), ie. 10101. Please refer to the payment purpose code list : <https://www.jpmorgan.com/directdoc/list-of-payment-purpose-code-kr.pdf> If you are not able to find the right purpose code from the list, please discuss with your branch service team to get the right code rather than having “99999” since 99999 is not an actual code which may cause delay of payment release due to the communication back and forth to find the right code. However, if you want to proceed it with “99999”, please describe the purpose of the payment in free format after purpose code “99999” but the delay of the payment release is unavoidable. If Payment code is one of “10103” and “10104” then Incoterms, H.S Code and Customs clearance number are also mandatory from the beneficiary thus process is expected longer.
- Beneficiary Registration No: If the beneficiary is Corporate, please provide 10 digits of corporate’s Business Registration Number in the format of ‘/OTHR/BRN/1108512345’.
- If the beneficiary is an Individual, please provide 13 digits of “9” in the format of ‘/OTHR/BRN/9999999999999’. Please DO NOT provide an actual personal ID in the payment instruction in cases where the beneficiary is an individual.

- Beneficiary Contact Person and number: If the incoming payment amount exceeds USD 50,000 then beneficiary telephone number and contact person’s name is mandatory.

Failure to include the above information in the payment Instruction may result in a delay or rejection of the payment. In case the payment amount exceeds USD 50,000 for inbound payment or USD 5,000 for outbound payment, submission of supporting documents are required.

If your payment purpose code and your supporting documents are not matched, we may amend your payment purpose code in accordance with your supporting document.

Additional Information

- KRW is a zero decimal currency; payments must be entered in whole currency amounts without decimal points to avoid rejection.
- For KRW payments initiated from an offshore account, JPMC Seoul is unable to provide a Certificate of Foreign Exchange Purchased/Deposited.

TWD – New Taiwan Dollar

Overview

- Information provided by the Beneficiary: Remitter should obtain all required bank information from the Beneficiary (e.g. SWIFT BIC, account number, and beneficiary bank address).
- Central Bank: For additional information, please refer to www.cbc.gov.tw.

Country Requirements/Restrictions

- Payment Restrictions: Taiwan FX markets are regulated. TWD can only be converted in-country.
 - Non-resident entities must be approved by qualified foreign institutional investors (QFI) to access the onshore market without the special regulatory approval. Non-resident entities are not allowed to hold TWD.
 - USD (or other available foreign currencies) can be converted in-country for local delivery, but FX documentation and bank regulatory reporting is required.
 - For individual residents, restrictions exist for sales and purchase of foreign currency against TWD. Maximum cumulative sales or purchases per year is USD 5,000,000 equivalent in gross unless specifically authorized other direct capital investments where there is no limit.
 - For commercial and individual non-residents, limits are defined in the rules regarding foreign institutional investors or other legislation for foreign exchange against TWD movement in and out. For foreign exchange against TWD movements for non-securities investment purposes, TWD transactions are not allowed..
 - For commercial residents, there are no exchange limits for sales or purchases of foreign currency against TWD relating to trade products (import/export proceeds) or labor. For funds transfers and direct capital investments, the maximum cumulative sale or purchase of foreign currency per year for legal entity is USD 50,000,000 equivalent (except for specifically authorized direct capital investments, where there is no limit).
 - In addition to transaction level thresholds, there is a TWD FX maximum limit of USD 50 million (equivalent) per annum for corporations. Items exempt from this limit are payments with special approval from the government (e.g. capital injection etc).
- Additional Documentation:
For inward remittance, the beneficiary must complete remittance declaration forms and provide supporting documentation to explain the reason for payment. On average, the documentation process may take 2-3 days to complete

Taiwan

- No FX against TWD transactions can be executed until FX reporting information/documentation is in place. The beneficiary must fill out the required documentation with their local bank by value date to receive credit into the account. If documents are not filled out, the exact payment amount and value date cannot be guaranteed.
 - For tax payments, supporting document (i.e. tax bill) from offshore remitter is an acceptable alternative document.
 - FX conversion against TWD amounts exceeding USD 1,000,000 (equivalent) requires a transactions declaration form and additional supporting documents. For inward remittance to non-JPM Taipei Branch clients, in addition to transaction declaration form and additional supporting documents, Inward Remittance Form is also required.
 - FX conversion against TWD amounts exceeding TWD 500,000 and below USD 1,000,000 (equivalent) require a transaction declaration form. For inward remittance to non-JPM Taipei Branch clients, in addition to transaction declaration form, Inward Remittance Form is also required.
 - FX conversion against TWD amounts below TWD 500,000 require beneficiary to advise on nature of transaction. No declaration form is required. . For inward remittance to non-JPM Taipei Branch clients, Inward Remittance Form is required.
- ### Payment Formatting Rules for TWD
- Ordering Customer (SWIFT MT103 F50): Include account number, full name (no initials) and full address of the ordering customer, including country, city, road/street, building No. and door number (where applicable).
